Report of the Management Company

The fund invests in companies and bonds that are listed on stock and bond exchanges and that have a positive impact through contribution to the transition to a more sustainable society. In some instances, the fund may also invest in sovereign and sub-sovereign bonds. Investments in the fund address five transitions that contribute to solving global challenges posed by structural trends such as ageing populations, resource scarcity, inequality and social exclusion. Each sub-fund has its own specific risk-return profile, applies a long-term strategy and has a concentrated but well-diversified portfolio.

Impact investment approach

The sub-funds have sustainable investments as their objective as defined in article 9 of the SFDR. The sustainability-related information for each sub-fund is available in the annexes in section “Sustainability-related disclosures” of the annual report. In addition to the information provided in the 2023 annual report, an annual impact report was published in the first half of 2024 that provides a more extensive overview of the fund’s positive impact in 2023. This report, as well as regular updates, are available on www.triodos-im.com.

The sub-funds distinguish themselves by their mandates and impact approach: integrating positive contribution, do no significant harm, sustainability risk and stewardship into one disciplined investment process. The investment process starts with a long-term vision for the transition towards a more sustainable society. The fund invests in companies that contribute to the progress of five transitions:

- Resource transition;
- Energy transition;
- Food transition;
- Societal transition; and
- Wellbeing transition.

These transitions are the cornerstone of the fund’s stock selection process, as each company and/or issuer in the portfolio must make a positive contribution to one or more of these transitions through its commercial propositions. In addition, all investments must meet the strict Triodos group-wide minimum standards.

Macroeconomic developments

In the first half of 2024, global economic growth moderated but remained at a solid pace. It thereby continued to exceed expectations despite unprecedented shocks (COVID-19 pandemic and the war in Ukraine) and extreme policy actions. In a way, the global expansion moved into firmer ground, as growth became less dependent on US economic activity. Indeed, both the eurozone and the UK returned to growth, after a year of broad stagnation. Growth in China also picked up, though economic activity in Japan contracted in first quarter of 2024. Meanwhile, incoming data provided some first hints that the US economy was gradually slowing down.

The growth pickup across most advanced economies outside the US was largely related to the further easing of headline inflation. Headline inflation approached the 2% central bank targets in both the eurozone and UK, as the energy-supply shock that was induced by the war in Ukraine faded. Wage growth also moderated but stayed elevated, resulting in an increase in household purchasing power. This dynamic was also visible in the US, but there the waning impulse of the enormous fiscal support that had been provided over the last few years provided a counterweight. As a result, the US economy started to gradually slow down anyways.

Both the US and UK labour markets became somewhat less tight, though the unemployment rates remained close to their record-low levels. The eurozone unemployment rate moved even lower. In Japan, an isolated issue with automobile production resulted in an economic contraction in the first quarter of the year, but this was a one-off. The unemployment rate also stayed close to its record-lows. China’s pickup in economic activity was driven by policy support, while the weakness in the property sector continued.

Although headline inflation eased considerably, core inflation remained rather sticky across advanced economies. This was mostly due to stubborn services inflation, reflecting strong services demand and significant wage growth. Consequently, most of the major central banks held on to their restrictive stance in the first half of the year. Only the European Central Bank (ECB) started its easing cycle eventually, with a first policy interest rate cut in June. The Bank of England (BoE) and, to a lesser extent, the Federal Reserve (Fed), also became more dovish in their guidance as the months proceeded, thereby preparing markets for rate cuts later in the year. Meanwhile the still restrictive monetary stances continued to dampen activity in interest rate-sensitive sectors such as housing. The Bank of Japan remained the odd one out, as it started its rate hike cycle and thereby left behind the era of a negative policy interest rates.

In the meantime, geopolitical tensions further escalated. Following an attack by Hamas, Israel responded, resulting in human tragedy in the Gaza Strip. This further intensified tensions between the West and other (regional) powers. This relationship was already under pressure due to the ongoing war in Ukraine. On top of that, there was a further move towards protectionism, with both the US and EU imposing significant tariffs on Chinese products and China responding in kind.

Market developments

Global equity markets rose sharply in the first half of 2024, despite the continued restrictive monetary stances across most major advanced economies. This was mostly because investor sentiment was boosted by solid corporate earnings reports, macroeconomic data pointing towards a soft landing, and also the continued hype around Artificial Intelligence (AI). Earnings reports for the first quarter were indeed better than consensus expectations, and although outside the US net profit margins fell, even in these regions they were still hovering above the averages of the pre-pandemic decade. Combined with easing inflationary pressures, this fuelled hopes for a ‘soft landing’, a scenario where central bankers would be able to cut interest rates before the restrictive monetary policies would cause recessions. Easing headline inflation across most major advanced economies and the start of the rate cut cycle by the ECB were interpreted as signs that a soft landing was in the making. Excitement about soaring demand for all AI related business in the meantime pushed markets higher. Investors thereby largely ignored the further escalation of geopolitical tensions.

On a regional level, semi-annual equity returns were the best in the US in euro terms. This makes sense, as the US market is dominated by several big tech companies, which benefitted from the AI boom and general risk-on sentiment. In general, growth outperformed value over the last half year, as the risk-on sentiment was relatively unfavourable for defensive sectors such as Utilities, Consumer Staples and Healthcare.

Euro government bond markets generated negative returns in the first half of 2024. Yield levels were higher, except for maturities of up to three years, as sticky inflation led bond investors to recalibrate expectations of more accommodative monetary policies from global central banks. Corporate bonds generated positive returns, outperforming sovereign bonds on tighter credit spreads, with lower-rated bonds outperforming higher-quality bonds.

Triodos Euro Bond Impact Fund

Investment strategy

Euro government bond markets generated negative returns in the first half of 2024. Yield levels were higher, except for maturities of up to three years, as sticky inflation led bond investors to recalibrate expectations of more accommodative monetary policies from global central banks. Corporate bonds generated positive returns, outperforming sovereign bonds on tighter credit spreads, with lower-rated bonds outperforming higher-quality bonds. The sub-fund remained defensively positioned in terms of credit risk, with a focus on high-quality bonds. All bonds in the portfolio made a clear contribution to at least one of the five transitions.

In the first half of 2024, one bond issuer was removed from the portfolio, whereas three new bond issuers were added. BMW was removed for insufficient improvement in contribution to positive impact.

A new green bond issued by the State of Hessen was added to the sub-fund. The proceeds are used for environmental projects and climate protection.

An existing green bond was added from United Utilities Group. The proceeds of the green bond are used for financing measures reducing abstraction and leakage from distribution networks, improvements to river water quality and improving the natural environment.

A sustainable bond has been added from the Autonomous Community of Andalusia. The bond's proceeds are used to tackle social, environmental, and economic challenges of the region.

Performance

In the first half of 2024, the total net assets of Triodos Euro Bond Impact Fund grew from EUR 345.4 million to EUR 355.0 million. During this period, the return of the sub-fund (Z-dis) was -1.0% (net of fees, including reinvestment of dividends), while the benchmark yielded -0.2%.

During the reporting period, the sub-fund generated a negative return, trailing its reference index. Main driver of the performance difference was the negative selection effect, stemming from the sub-fund's overweight position in high-quality bonds. This was partly compensated for by the positive allocation effect, resulting from the sub-fund's overweight position in government-related bonds and underweight position in government bonds. The longer duration of the sub-fund compared to the benchmark during the first two months of the year has led to a negative curve change contribution. The curve carry contribution was neutral.

Triodos Global Equities Impact Fund

Investment strategy

Equities indices and the sub-fund hit all-time highs in the reporting period. Expectations of interest rate cuts by Central Banks, a benign macroeconomic environment, and healthy company earnings were the main drivers for this positive sentiment. However, market leadership was very narrow. Large caps, and stocks with growth and quality characteristics set markets higher. The value style and small- and midcap stocks underperformed.

US Big Tech companies were again in favour. The AI theme is still a dominating factor and NVIDIA is the play to this theme. For a moment, NVIDIA became the most valuable listed company in the world with a market capitalisation of USD 3,335 billion, leapfrogging Microsoft and Apple. The shares gained 157% in the first half of 2024. NVIDIA fueled the rally in other semiconductor stocks.

On the other hand, the sub-fund's holdings linked to Renewable Energy were among the underperformers. In solar, end demand is still bleak, and this resulted in several profit warnings in this segment. In wind, the situation is improving but not yet rewarded when looking at the share price of, for example, Vestas Wind Systems. Political sentiment also is not supportive following the outcome of the European elections. Right wing parties gain momentum while the greens become weaker. This raises concerns whether ambitious renewable targets set as part of the European Green Deal and RePower EU are at risk.

During the year the sub-fund totally sold positions in Cisco Systems and Check Point Software Technologies. New in the portfolio are Resmed, Palo Alto Networks and John Deere.

Performance

In the first half of 2024, the total net assets of Triodos Global Equities Impact Fund grew from EUR 1.1 billion to EUR 1.2 billion. During this period, the return of the sub-fund (Z-dis) was 12.0% (net of fees, including reinvestment of dividends), while the benchmark yielded 15.4%.

The performance of the sub-fund was strong in the reporting period. Most important positive contributions were from the exposures in the sectors Information Technology and Healthcare. In IT, NVIDIA was the star performer but also semi equipment companies like TSMC and KLA Corporation were among the winners. In Healthcare, the positive momentum continues for Intuitive Surgical, Novo Nordisk and Edwards Lifesciences.

Companies linked to Renewable Energy were among the underperformers. Enphase Energy (solar), Vestas Wind Systems (wind) and Acciona Energías Renovables (renewable utility) recorded returns between -20% and -30% in the reporting period.

Triodos Sterling Bond Impact Fund

Investment strategy

Sterling bond markets performed negatively during the first half year of 2024. The 10Y Gilt increased from 3.6% to 4.2% driven mainly by high services inflation. Non-Gilts performed less negative, driven by the positive market sentiment which drove down credit spreads. The high services inflation was also the reason for the Bank of England to keep the policy rate on hold during the first half year of 2024. The market is now positioning for a first rate cut in August 2024. But there is some uncertainty as to the timing of the first rate cut. Prime Minister Rishi Sunak surprised markets to have early elections on 4 July 2024. As a result, the BoE has announced to suspend all public speeches and statements by policymakers during the UK election campaign. As inflation in the UK is expected to move towards target, albeit at a slower pace, it seems realistic to expect a first rate cut in August 2024.

During the first half year, bond positions in Vonovia and John Deere were added to the fund. Vonovia is a German real estate services company specialized in providing affordable housing to low-income households including people with a migration background, students and senior citizens. John Deere is one of the largest makers of farm equipment. The company offers products that allow precision agriculture technology. This technology requires less resources, less labour time and less use of energy, nitrogen and crop protection products. No positions have been removed during the first half year of 2024.

Performance

In the first half of 2024, the total net assets of Triodos Sterling Bond Impact Fund grew from GBP 17.1 million to GBP 18.4 million. During this period, the return of the sub-fund (KR-cap) was -0.6% (net of fees, including reinvestment of dividends), while the benchmark yielded 0.0%.

The allocation effect was positive, mainly due to an underweight position in Gilts. Selection effect was negative, caused by an overweight in higher quality corporates and government-related bonds. Also curve change effect was negative, mainly due to the slightly longer duration stance of the fund over the six-month period.

Triodos Impact Mixed Fund – Defensive, Neutral, Offensive

Investment strategy

The sub-funds performed well during the first half of 2024, totally driven by the strong returns of equity markets. Earnings expectations held up well and investors are anticipating looser monetary policy in most markets. Again, this strong performance is mainly based on a few large cap companies. As AI is the main topic for investors, IT stocks showed a strong performance and were responsible for around half of the double digit return of global markets. Bond investments posted slightly negative returns as the ECB is data depending for further steps and political developments (a.o. in France) raise nervousness about larger budget deficits.

The sub-funds improved their impact profile by selecting new holdings with high measurable positive impact. By using revenues and 'use of proceeds' for green and social bonds, impact can be measured and managed more precisely.

In the first half of 2024, the sub-funds added new equity positions via Resmed (Medical Technology), Palo Alto Networks (Security Software) and John Deere (Agricultural Equipment). Impact bonds were added with new positions in government-related bonds from Hessen and Cades and corporate bonds issued by Reckitt Benckiser (Personal Care), United Utilities Group (Water Utility) and EssilorLuxottica (Healthcare).

BMW was removed from the sub-funds as its positive impact contribution is low compared to other alternatives.

The sub-funds enjoyed a solid absolute return but underperformed the reference index. The relative underperformance is due to the somewhat lower equity returns and higher quality in bond selection. Tactical asset allocation was neutral. The sub-funds had limited exposure to the so-called Magnificent Seven (Big US Technology). The sub-funds' holding in NVIDIA mitigated this to some extent and was the strongest contributor to the sub-funds' performance in the first half 2024 (similar situation in 2023). Companies related to the Renewable Energy sector, including Vestas Wind Systems, Enphase Energy and Acciona Energías Renovables, had a negative impact on the relative performance.

Performance Triodos Impact Mixed Fund – Defensive

In the first half of 2024, the total net assets of Triodos Impact Mixed Fund – Defensive shrank from EUR 38.6 million to EUR 37.5 million. During this period, the return of the sub-fund (Z-dis) was 2.1% (net of fees, including reinvestment of dividends), while the benchmark yielded 3.6%.

The relative performance of Triodos Impact Mixed Fund – Defensive was somewhat below the reference benchmark.

As the investment style puts a great deal of emphasis on positive impact and avoids controversial practices, the sub-fund has limited exposure to 'Big US Technology' and therefore could not fully participate in the stock market rally. Besides, the high positive impact investments in renewable energy posted below average returns due to difficult market circumstances.

The bond investments for the sub-fund lagged the fixed income reference index. The slightly higher quality was negative, as investors' sentiment was clearly 'risk-on'.

Performance Triodos Impact Mixed Fund – Offensive

In the first half of 2024, the total net assets of Triodos Impact Mixed Fund – Offensive shrank from EUR 64.7 million to EUR 63.3 million. During this period, the return of the sub-fund (Z-dis) was 8.8% (net of fees, including reinvestment of dividends), while the benchmark yielded 11.3%.

The relative performance of Triodos Impact Mixed Fund – Offensive was lower than the reference benchmark.

As the investment style puts a great deal of emphasis on positive impact and avoids controversial practices, the sub-fund has limited exposure to 'Big US Technology' and therefore could not fully participate in the stock market rally. Besides, the high positive impact investments in renewable energy posted below average returns due to difficult market circumstances.

The bond investments for the sub-fund lagged the fixed income reference index. The slightly higher quality was negative, as investors' sentiment was clearly 'risk-on'.

Triodos Pioneer Impact Fund

Investment strategy

During the first half of 2024, the sub-fund gained 5.7%, which was in line with the reference index. Equity markets globally realised a strong first half, although mainly booked during the first quarter. Small- and midcaps lagged their large cap counterpart. Higher interest rates normally have more impact on small- and midcap companies than on large caps.

A driver for the markets were again all the developments related to AI. Quite a number of companies in the Information Technology sector expect to benefit from this. The sub-fund benefited indirectly via First Solar, which gained over 30% in the first half of 2024. The US solar panel manufacturer could be a beneficiary of the AI-driven electricity demand ramping up. But also semiconductor company BE Semiconductor Industries performed well as a play on AI.

The sub-fund also benefited from the performance of two companies that could potentially be acquired. Paper packaging company D S Smith was approached by a peer for a take-over. Telecom company Millicom International Cellular got an offer from its largest shareholder. These examples underpin the attractive valuation of many small- and midcap companies.

Almost all companies in the sub-fund reported good first quarter results and confirmed their full-year outlook.

Some holdings also increased their guidance, like one of the biggest positions Advanced Drainage Systems. This pipe producer from recycled plastic, is gaining share from traditional concrete pipe companies.

Also stock selection within Industrials and Consumer Discretionary was positive. The stock selection within Utilities detracted from the performance as Spanish windfarm company Acciona Energías Renovables lagged.

The sub-fund continues to focus on selecting companies with solid fundamentals, strong balance sheets and impact-focused management teams, supported by decent cashflow-based valuations, diversifying portfolio risk across and within themes and regions as well as across different types of business models. Consequently, the sub-fund was not exposed to oil and gas names, or to banks, insurers and other financial services companies. The sub-fund invests both in growth and value-oriented positions. This results in a balanced portfolio that does not have a distinct style drift.

During the first half of 2024, the sub-fund continued to lower its exposure to Japan by selling Yamaha, ROHM and Euglena. New positions were established in California Water Services, Qiagen and Alk-Abello. California Water Services is a fully regulated American utility with high visibility. Qiagen and Alk-Abello are two healthcare companies with high market shares and solid market positions.

Performance

In the first half of 2024, the total net assets of Triodos Pioneer Impact Fund grew from EUR 623.9 million to EUR 632.4 million. During this period, the return of the sub-fund (Z-cap) was 5.5% (net of fees, including reinvestment of dividends), while the benchmark yielded 5.9%.

The sub-fund's performance was driven by a positive allocation effect, while currency effects were negative. Stock selection was neutral. The overweight position in the Utility and Healthcare sectors made a positive contribution to the relative performance. Stock selection was most positive in the Communication Services and Industrial sectors. The weakening of the Yen versus the euro was the main reason for the negative currency effect.

Triodos Future Generations Fund

Investment strategy

The sub-fund's return in the first half of 2024 was solid and reflected a positive equity market sentiment. In addition, portfolio companies in general posted attractive earnings and outlooks. Several companies in the portfolio received takeover offers. In the case of Benesse and PowerSchool, the proposals were welcomed by the companies. Blackbaud and Millicom International Cellular were also approached, but their boards rejected the offers as they were considered too low.

As part of the support for UNICEF, the sub-fund continued with engagement focused on child wellbeing topics. It also explored various ways of further collaborating with UNICEF.

The sub-fund continues to focus on selecting companies with solid fundamentals, strong balance sheets and impact-focused management teams, supported by decent cashflow-based valuations, diversifying portfolio risk across and within themes and regions as well as across different types of business models.

During the first half of 2024, the sub-fund added Alk-Abello, NX Filtration and Tomra to the portfolio. These companies added to the diversification of the fund across sectors, styles and geographies. They also replaced Benesse. This Japanese company was acquired by its management and EQT, a private equity investor.

Outlook

Macroeconomic outlook

Triodos Investment Management expects that the highly anticipated soft landing will really take shape for the aggregated advanced economies in the second half of 2024. Nevertheless, the global expansion this year will be lower than the year before, meaning another year of global growth below this century's historical average. For the major economies, Triodos Investment Management expects the eurozone and UK to experience a sluggish recovery, while Triodos Investment Management expects growth in the US to moderate. Japan will likely experience a slight pick-up in growth after a contractionary first quarter. Although a full-blown Chinese recovery remains elusive, Triodos Investment Management does expect solid growth in China over 2024.

Triodos Investment Management expects headline inflation to come down towards the central bank targets in the US, UK and eurozone over the course of the year, but at a slow pace, with the possibility of stagnation or modest rises in certain months. Triodos Investment Management expects services inflation to remain somewhat elevated in the near term given recent wage growth figures, in that way slowing the disinflationary process. The major upside risks to inflation seem to be the world's unstable (geo)political situation, which could potentially provide a supply shock. Triodos Investment Management expects the ECB to continue to ease monetary policy by implementing two more 25 bps rate cuts in 2024. Triodos Investment Management expects both the Federal Reserve and the Bank of England to follow suit and cut twice in the remainder of the year. After that, Triodos Investment Management expects that these central banks will gradually move towards their neutral rates. Meanwhile, Triodos Investment Management expects the Bank of Japan to slowly increase its policy rate.

Equity markets outlook

For the time being, Triodos Investment Management is sticking to its neutral equity allocation. This call is based upon several developments. Triodos Investment Management expects the global expansion to continue, albeit at a slightly more moderate pace (equal to a soft landing). However, Triodos Investment Management does not see immediate recession or severe slowdown risks to justify a move to underweight. Inflationary pressures are also expected to continue to gradually abate, which implies rate cuts by central banks going forward. This is usually beneficial for risk assets. However, the easing pace across the major central banks will probably be calm. In addition, rate cut expectations as priced in by investors seem realistic for now, but risks on inflation are tilted to the upside, with ongoing wars and a move towards protectionism. Also, earnings expectations are at seemingly high levels. Together, these factors do not provide sufficient basis for a move to overweight.

Bond markets outlook

Triodos Investment Management is neutral in bonds in line with its balanced assessment of the global economy over the coming months. Triodos Investment Management believes that long-term yields will trend down slightly over the next half year from their current levels, which should provide some gains for bond investors. At the same time, Triodos Investment Management expects this drop to be relatively modest and notices bond yields are reacting strongly to incoming data, which implies some volatility. Furthermore, it's plausible that as policy rates come down and economic activity 'normalises', the term premium is to build again. This could erode some of the potential gains on the long end, so Triodos Investment Management elects to stick to a neutral stance and neutral duration allocation.

Sustainable investment opportunities

Triodos Investment Management continues to see plenty of opportunities in the sustainable investment landscape. The European Green Deal, the EU's roadmap for making its economy sustainable, will be a counterweight to the populist urges of governments in 2024. The related green taxonomy will enable investors to steer their investments towards more sustainable technologies and businesses, and the creation of an EU Green Bond Standard will deliver a uniform tool to assess green bonds. The Sustainable Financial Disclosure Regulation (SFDR), part of the European Green Deal, also makes investors more aware of financial risks related to sustainability, and to some extent limits the options for greenwashing. The European Green Deal will also force companies to become more transparent.

In Japan, Triodos Investment Management expects to continue to find sustainable investment opportunities, as corporate governance continues to improve due to top-down governance initiatives while bottom-up, initiatives such as the Sustainable Development Goals are high on companies' agenda. In the US, the Inflation Reduction Act will continue to spur the green transition with over EUR 350 billion of green subsidies. Overall, Triodos Investment Management will continue to contribute to the envisioned transition by focusing on investments that support climate mitigation and adaptation and the fulfilment of the Sustainable Development Goals in this decade.

Note 1 - General

Triodos SICAV I is an open-ended investment company with a designated management company, incorporated under the laws of the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg as a “Société d’Investissement à Capital Variable” (SICAV) in the form of a “société anonyme”. Triodos SICAV I is governed by the law of the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg of 10 August 1915 on commercial companies, as amended, and by part I of the Law of 17 December 2010, as amended. Triodos SICAV I has appointed Triodos Investment Management as its authorised UCITS management company.

The fund (and each of its sub-funds) does not qualify as a “structured UCITS” within the meaning of article 36(1) of Commission Regulation (EU) No 583/2010 of 1 July 2010 implementing Directive 2009/65/EC.

The fund has been incorporated under the name of Triodos SICAV I for an unlimited period. The registered office of Triodos SICAV I is established at 11-13, boulevard de la Foire, L-1528 Luxembourg.

Note 2 - Summary of significant accounting policies

The financial statements are prepared in accordance with Luxembourg regulations relating to investment funds using the following significant accounting policies.

a) Valuation of investments

The value of such assets is determined as follows:

The value of any cash on hand or on deposit, bills and demand notes and accounts receivable, prepaid expenses, cash dividends and interests declared or accrued as aforesaid and not yet received is deemed to be the full amount thereof, unless in any case the same is unlikely to be paid or received in full, in which case the value thereof is arrived at after making such discount as may be considered appropriate in such case to reflect the true value thereof.

The value of transferable securities, money market instruments and any other financial assets listed or dealt in on a regulated market, a stock exchange in another state or on any other regulated market is based on the last available price on the relevant market which is normally the principal market for such assets.

In the event that any assets are not listed or dealt in on any regulated market, any stock exchange in another state or on any other regulated market, or if, with respect to assets listed or dealt in on any such markets, the price as determined above is not representative of the fair market value of the relevant assets, the value of such assets will be based on reasonably foreseeable sales prices determined prudently and in good faith by the Board of Directors.

b) Net realised profit / (loss) on sales of investments

The net realised profit / (loss) on sales of investments is calculated on the basis of average cost of investments sold.

c) Foreign exchange translation

Triodos SICAV I maintains its accounting records in EUR and its financial statements are expressed in this currency.

Assets and liabilities which are not denominated in EUR are translated into EUR at the rate of exchange prevailing in Luxembourg at applicable exchange rates at the end of the year.

Income and expenses in currencies other than EUR are translated into EUR at the applicable exchange rates prevailing on the transaction date. Resulting realised and unrealised foreign exchange gains or losses are included in the statement of operations and changes in net assets. The exchange rates used at 30 June 2024 are:

1 EUR = 1.604777 AUD	1 EUR = 7.457468 DKK	1 EUR = 138.522683 KES	1 EUR = 11.350038 SEK
1 EUR = 5.952976 BRL	1 EUR = 0.847836 GBP	1 EUR = 11.411429 NOK	1 EUR = 1.071750 USD
1 EUR = 0.963075 CHF	1 EUR = 172.401590 JPY	1 EUR = 1.758841 NZD

d) Income from investments

Interest on fixed income securities is accrued prorata temporis on each net asset calculation date and dividends are accrued on an ex-dividend basis.

e) Allocation of expenses

Each sub-fund shall pay for the general costs and expenses directly attributable to it. These fees are all part of the service fee.

General costs and expenses that cannot be attributed to a given sub-fund shall be allocated to the sub-funds, in proportion to their respective net assets. These fees are all part of the service fee.

Since the introduction of MiFID II on 3 January 2018, research costs have to be paid either by the fund, or by the investment manager. The choice was made to have the investment manager pay for the research costs. No research costs are allocated to the sub-funds.

f) Formation expenses

The costs and expenses of the formation of the fund have been borne by the fund and amortised over a period of five years. Expenses incurred in connection with the creation of any additional sub-fund shall be borne by the relevant sub-fund and, where applicable, will be written off in proportion to their net assets over a period not exceeding five years.

Note 3 - Determination of the net asset value of shares

The net asset value per share of each sub-fund is expressed in the reference currency of the relevant sub-fund and is calculated for each sub-fund by dividing the assets of such sub-fund less its liabilities by the number of shares in issue in respect of such sub-fund.

Note 4 - Fees

4.1 Management fees

The annual management fee of each sub-fund is used to cover charges and expenses of the sub-fund to be paid to the management company, the investment manager (if any) and the distributors of each sub-fund in relation to share distribution (if applicable). The annual management fee is accrued daily out of the assets attributable to the relevant class of shares or sub-fund as a percentage of the net asset value.

4.2 Service fees

The annual service fee of the sub-fund is also used to cover all charges and expenses to the depositary, the administrative agent, the registrar and transfer agent, the domiciliary agent and the paying agent. The annual service fee is accrued daily out of the assets attributable to the relevant class of shares or sub-fund as a percentage of the net asset value.

The share classes incur a fixed annual service fee to cover the expenses related to the administration and safekeeping of assets, and other ongoing operating and administrative expenses. The service fee is fixed in the sense that the management company bears the excess of any such expenses above the rate specified for each share class in the table below. Conversely, the management company is entitled to retain any amount by which the rate of these fees to be borne by the share classes, as set out in the table below, exceeds the actual expenses incurred by the relevant class of the relevant sub-fund.

The percentages of the service fees are as follows:

Service fee

Sub-fund	Class R, Class R-H, Class Z, Class K-R and Class R-G	Class I, Class I-II, Class K-Institutional, Class K-Institutional-II, and Class P

4.3 Taxes

All payable taxes are charged separately to the fund, value added tax exempted. This mainly reverts to the Subscription taxes as mentioned in Note 1 and 6.

Note 5 - Distributions

In each class of shares within each sub-fund, the Board of Directors may issue capitalisation shares and distribution shares. Distribution shares may pay a dividend to their holders, whereas capitalisation shares capitalise their entire earnings.

The annual general meeting shall decide, on recommendation of the Board of Directors, what share of Triodos SICAV I's profits shall be distributed from each relevant class of shares. Consequently, the annual general meeting may approve, for each sub-fund or class of shares, the distribution of the net income and capital gains, realised or unrealised, after deduction of capital losses, realised or unrealised. The amounts corresponding to income attributable to the shares of a class for which it was decided not to pay a dividend will be capitalised in the assets of the class concerned.

Note 6 - Subscription tax

Triodos SICAV I is currently not liable to any Luxembourg tax on profits or income, nor are distributions paid by Triodos SICAV I liable to any Luxembourg withholding tax. Triodos SICAV I is, however, liable to an annual subscription tax in Luxembourg, which in principle amounts to 0.05% per annum of its net asset value, such tax being payable quarterly on the basis of the value of the aggregate net assets of the sub-funds at the end of the relevant calendar quarter. However, such rate may be reduced to 0.01% per annum of the net asset value for specific classes of shares or sub-funds which are restricted to institutional investors (Class I, Class I-II, Class K-I, Class K-I-II, Class U-I-II and Class P shares). Furthermore, if some sub-funds invest in other Luxembourg UCIs which in turn are subject to the annual subscription tax, no annual subscription tax is payable by Triodos SICAV I on the portion of assets invested therein.

Tracing its roots to the European Transparency Guidelines unveiled in 2004, the European SRI Transparency Code, first launched in May 2008, primarily aims at increasing accountability and clarity of SRI practices for European investors. The principle driving the Code is that asset manager signatories should be open and honest, and disclose accurate, adequate and timely information to enable stakeholders, in particular retail investors, to understand the policies and practices of a given SRI fund. The Code focuses on SRI funds distributed publicly in Europe and has been designed to cover a range of asset classes.
